MULL-ING THINGS OVER

Next week, our Diocese will welcome a new Bishop—Bishop John Bonnici will take the Chair of Rochester. He is currently serving as an Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of New York. At 61, he brings his youth and enthusiasm to his ministry with us. Sacred Heart Cathedral will act as host to many bishops who will be present to support their brother bishop. This will include the new Archbishop of New York and America's Apostolic Delegate. I suspect every priest of our Diocese will be present as well as the new Bishop's family and invited guests. Members of the diocese will also be present. As Bishop Bonnici takes the Chair of Rochester, and his seat, he will see a sea of faces welcoming him and praying for him.

Receiving a new Bishop is significant for a diocese. His leadership will set a direction of growth for the Diocesan Church. His interpretation of Church Law will establish an order within the Church and give a sense of faith—security for the people. The pastoral style of the Bishop becomes the pastoral style for the priests as the Bishop gives direction as to how sacraments are celebrated, how the priests are to live, and what becomes priorities for their service to the people. Bishop Bonnici has already served as a Bishop in New York City. He will bring his experience and his style. He is an intelligent man, highly educated with several academic degrees, and is known as a compassionate and energetic man. I am sure our diocese will flourish under his leadership.

Whenever a major change happens in the diocese, there are changes in our lives. I ask you to be patient and don't respond immediately but learn about these changes and be open to the Holy Spirit who will work in and through our new Bishop. Many of us have experienced previous changes as a former Bishop left and a new one arrived. The Church undergoes these changes in order to grow and better serve God's Holy People as we complete God's mission.

As we prepare for the arrival of the new Bishop, we also prepare for the departure of Bishop Salvatore Matano. Bishop Matano was installed as our 9th Bishop on January 4, 2014 at Sacred Heart Cathedral. He replaced Bishop Matthew Clark who served our Diocese for 33 years as our Bishop. Bishop Matano has been very active in his service to us. He was one who rarely took a day off, loved doing pastoral ministry, quick to get to know people and often reminded us to pray and ask prayers for himself. I had the privilege of working with him and in doing so was able to observe his style and receive his direction. We were blessed to have him and in spite of bankruptcy, grew and, I believe tightened our community bond because of the experience. We were blessed to have his leadership and legal insight throughout the bankruptcy process. He successfully brought us to its conclusion with a sense of justice, compassion for victims and a recognition of our responsibility to respond.

We bid farewell to Bishop Matano with heavy hearts. But, since he will continue to live in our diocese and serve our people, he will not be absent. We thank Bishop Matano not only for sharing his work with us but also for sharing his life with us. He became part of our family. He learned our way of life and met other leaders of our wider community. Bishop Matano obviously calls this home as he is staying right here to continue to serve. We thank God for bringing him to us and for sharing his life with us. We pray that God will give him good health and thank God for shining the Holy Spirit on him as he led us.

One of the activities of this Lenten Season is growing closer to God. An occasion like the installation of a new Bishop certainly brings the Church closer to God as we acknowledge the act of God in choosing this new Bishop and matching him to the Diocese of Rochester. The Holy Spirit guides this selection process and we accept Bishops as a gift of God. What better time of year to celebrate this and experience this than the Season of Lent. Bishop Bonnici has chosen March 19th as his installation anniversary. St. Joseph will be a model for his episcopal ministry. St. Joseph is Patron of the Universal Church—the perfect example of a Church Leader. St. Joseph bless and guide Bishop Bonnici.

Finally, as I prepare to celebrate my 50th anniversary of ordination, I thank you for your support and prayers. I have been blessed to be assigned to parishes with people who have been wonderfully supportive of me and my ministry. Geneva has been no different. Thank you. As I celebrate my Anniversary Mass, you will be in my prayers.

From Father George

Continuing our series on the Lord's covenants with mankind, today we will look at the covenant with Abraham. Last week, we saw that God made a covenant with Noah. However, as was the case after the covenant with Adam, it didn't take long for humanity to fall out of God's favor again. This time, rather than wiping out humanity (because God promised He wouldn't do that again), He decides to use one man to be the means through which all of humanity would regain His favor: Abram. God makes a promise to Abram with three parts: "I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you; I will make your name great, so that you will be a blessing. ... All the communities of the earth shall find blessing in you." (Genesis 12:2-3) God will ratify each one of these promises with a covenant.

Some time after God's initial promise, Abram is disheartened that he doesn't have any children (he was already 75, and his wife Sarai was 65, when God made His promise). God assures Abram that his own offspring would be the heir of the promise, but Abram asks for a greater reassurance. So, the Lord asks him to set up a ritual where both Abram and a floating fire (symbolizing God's presence) pass between the halves of three slaughtered animals. In short, this is a covenant ceremony. In the process, God renews His promise to Abram, assuring Abram that he will have lots of descendants (Gen. 15:5) and lots of land (Gen. 15:18-21). In other words, Abram will be a great nation.

Later, still childless, Sarai suggests that Abram take her handmaid Hagar as a concubine. Abram does so, and Hagar bears Ishmael. However, the Lord makes clear to Abram that Ishmael is not to be the heir of the promise. Consequently, God renews His covenant with Abram, changes his name to Abraham (and Sarai's name to Sarah), and has Abraham circumcise himself (likely, in part, as punishment for taking a concubine). In the process, the Lord renews His promise that Abram will be the father of many nations through offspring with Sarah, and He also adds the promise that he will have kings as descendants. (Gen. 17:2) In the ancient world, being the ancestor of kings would have been closely linked with having a great name, which is further emphasized by the fact that the Lord literally makes Abraham's name bigger.

After Sarah has finally borne a son named Isaac, the Lord asks Abraham to sacrifice Isaac on Mount Moriah (but He doesn't make Abraham go through with it). This passage is difficult for many, and I don't have space to do it full justice here. However, there are a few things worth noting. 1) Isaac was not a small child at this point, since he carried the wood for the sacrifice up the mountain. (Gen. 22:6) Thus, he must have participated in the sacrifice willingly, because he could have easily overpowered Abraham if he wanted to. 2) Abraham has repeatedly shown a lack of full confidence in the Lord's promise to give him many descendants through his own natural children, so part of asking Abraham to sacrifice Isaac is to give him the chance to make up for that earlier lack of trust. 3) The Lord does not ask anything of Abraham that He isn't willing to do Himself, since He would sacrifice His own Son about 2000 years later. To reward Abraham's faithfulness to the Lord, he receives the promise that "in your descendants all the nations of the earth will find blessing," thus ratifying in a covenant the final part of the Lord's initial promise to Abram.

Stewardship Reflection

"Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again." (John 4:13)

Jesus reminds us that material things, even something as basic as water, can never satisfy us over the long run. When we build our lives around material possessions we will always want more, and no amount will ever satisfy our desire. True joy and peace only come when we follow Jesus – when we become more "God-centered" and less "self-centered."

Del Padre George

Continuando con nuestra serie sobre las alianzas del Señor con la humanidad, hoy veremos la alianza con Abraham. La semana pasada vimos que Dios hizo una alianza con Noé. Sin embargo, al igual que ocurrió tras la alianza con Adán, la humanidad no tardó en volver a caer en desgracia ante Dios. Esta vez, en lugar de exterminar a la humanidad (porque Dios prometió que no volvería a hacerlo), decide utilizar a un hombre como medio para que toda la humanidad recupere su favor: Abram. Dios le hace una promesa a Abram que consta de tres partes: “Haré nacer de ti un gran pueblo y te bendeciré. Engrandeceré tu nombre y tú mismo serás una bendición. ... En ti serán bendecidos todos los pueblos de la tierra”. (Génesis 12:2–3). Dios ratificará cada una de estas promesas con una alianza.

Algún tiempo después de la promesa inicial de Dios, Abram se siente desanimado porque no tiene hijos (ya tenía 75 años y su esposa Sarai tenía 65 cuando Dios le hizo su promesa). Dios le asegura a Abram que su propio descendiente sería el heredero de la promesa, pero Abram pide una mayor garantía. Entonces, el Señor le pide que establezca un ritual en el que tanto Abram como un fuego flotante (que simboliza la presencia de Dios) pasen entre las mitades de tres animales sacrificados. En resumen, se trata de una ceremonia de alianza. En el proceso, Dios renueva su promesa a Abram, asegurándole que tendrá muchos descendientes (Gén 15:5) y muchas tierras (Gén. 15:18–21). En otras palabras, nacerá de Abram un gran pueblo.

Más tarde, aún sin hijos, Sarai sugiere a Abram que tome a su sierva Agar como concubina. Abram lo hace, y Agar da a luz a Ismael. Sin embargo, el Señor le deja claro a Abram que Ismael no será el heredero de la promesa. En consecuencia, Dios renueva su alianza con Abram, cambia su nombre por el de Abraham (y el de Sarai por el de Sara) y hace que Abraham se circuncide (probablemente, en parte, como castigo por tomar una concubina). En el proceso, el Señor renueva su promesa de que Abram será el padre de muchas naciones a través de la descendencia con Sara, y también añade la promesa de que tendrá reyes como descendientes. (Gén. 17:2) En el mundo antiguo, ser antepasado de reyes estaba estrechamente relacionado con tener un gran nombre, lo que se enfatiza aún más por el hecho de que el Señor literalmente hace más grande el nombre de Abraham.

Después de que Sara finalmente da a luz a un hijo llamado Isaac, Dios le pidió a Abraham que sacrificara a Isaac en el monte Moriah (pero no obligó a Abraham a hacerlo). Este pasaje es difícil de aceptar para muchos, y no tengo espacio aquí para analizarlo en profundidad. Sin embargo, hay algunas cosas que vale la pena mencionar. 1) Isaac no era un niño pequeño en este momento, ya que llevó la leña para el sacrificio hasta la montaña. (Gén 22:6) Por lo tanto, participó en el sacrificio de buena gana, ya que podría vencer fácilmente a Abraham si quisiera. 2) Abraham ha demostrado en repetidas ocasiones una falta de confianza plena en la promesa del Señor de darle muchos descendientes a través de sus propios hijos naturales, por lo que parte de pedirle a Abraham que sacrifique a Isaac es darle la oportunidad de compensar esta falta de confianza anterior. 3) El Señor no le pide nada a Abraham que él mismo no esté dispuesto a hacer, ya que sacrificaría a su propio hijo unos 2000 años más tarde. Para compensar la fidelidad de Abraham al Señor, recibe la promesa de que “en tu descendencia serán bendecidos todos los pueblos de la tierra”, ratificando así en una alianza la parte final de la promesa inicial del Señor a Abram.
