

Parish Mission Statement As a warm, supportive community brought together by Christ, we celebrate God's love with joy, breaking the bread and listening to His word to bring others to Christ, and strive to serve God, our congregation and our world.

3rd Sunday of Lent

Meribah & Massah

Our first reading this weekend takes us to Meribah & Massah. Ever been there? No need to go to Israel. Meribah means 'place of quarrel'. Massah means 'testing place'. Thirsty, in the desert, the people quarrel with their leader, Moses, though actually it is God with whom they take issue. In chapter 15 of Exodus, God tests the people: Will they obey His instructions concerning manna or not? (they fail). Now in chapter 17, they test the Lord: Is He really with them? Can He provide water in this God forsaken desert? (He does).

Recall two weeks ago? Jesus was tested in the desert. Unlike the people who repeatedly grumbled during their days in the desert, Jesus went into the desert and remained faithful. This week we will hear how Jesus provides life-giving water beyond anything Moses or the people could have imagined. Grumbling, quarreling, testing – all too familiar. Yet despite our complaints, God blesses us abundantly, as we will hear in the second reading! We respond to the first reading with psalm 95, which recounts the events at Meribah and Massah, while inviting us to acclaim "The Rock of our salvation". Could it be a reference to water from the rock? At any rate, the psalmist encourages "If today you hear his voice, harden not your hearts." AMEN!

As Water is Poured

Our second reading this weekend speaks of God's love being poured out into our hearts through the Holy Spirit. After confessing our sins, in the prayer of absolution we hear that God has 'poured out the Holy Spirit for the forgiveness of sins'. Hear the words, and sense the mercy and love of God pouring over you in each of the sacraments, especially this weekend as we hear so much about water, setting the stage for the Easter Vigil, baptisms and renewing the promises of our own baptism.

What a Conversation!

Our Gospel this weekend is not just about what happened one day at the well. John is reflecting with us on baptism. As John loves to do, he begins with a conversation that has a surface meaning. Jesus is thirsty, the woman has a bucket, he asks for a drink. But we are invited to go so much deeper. While he asks for a drink, Jesus is the one who can satisfy spiritual thirst. What he offers is not water, but the gift of the Holy Spirit, that can well up within us to eternal life, or wash over us, creating us anew. In her first encounter with Christ, the Samaritan woman becomes one of the first evangelists, helping lead her whole town to Christ. John doesn't even use the word baptism, but teaches so much about baptism, discipleship, living in grace. Next week, Christ heals our blindness. The following week: Christ calls us out of death and into life; life in Christ, life in grace, life into eternity. The woman at the well, the man born blind, and Lazarus help guide those preparing for the sacrament of Baptism to the waters of rebirth, preparing us to walk with them. Step into each of the scenes, talk with these three, and let them lead us into a conversation with Christ. ~Fr. Bob

More on Feeding the Hungry

Back in the Middle Ages in Sicily, a severe drought struck. The devotion grew, continues, and we will be celebrating on March 15th!
